

DIAZ ON TRIAL BY COURT-MARTIAL SHIELDS OTHERS

Rebel Leader Arraigned With 17 Followers, Says He Had No Accomplices in Revolt.

COOL BEFORE JUDGES.

Mexican Notables Still Trying to Save Him From Death Sentence—Madero Unmoved.

MEXICO CITY, Oct. 25.—Eighteen prisoners faced the court-martial at Vera Cruz when it went into session at 10 o'clock yesterday morning. The court was presided over by Gen. Davila.

Felix Diaz sat in a center of the group and appeared entirely composed, according to a special despatch received here this morning. In his declaration to the court he said:

"I am the only one responsible for the movement. I have known Col. Jose Diaz Ordaz for many years and I won him over to my side. The other officers did not know even the place to which they were being taken. I had no accomplices there were no time to make preparations for my movement."

Of the twenty-four prisoners likely to suffer death for their share in the rebellion thirteen are commissioned officers and the remainder sergeants.

Diaz when not in court is detained in the Municipal Palace at Vera Cruz.
Efforts to save the life of the rebel leader are being continued by men of high standing in Mexico. The Justice Court today instructed the judge at Vera Cruz to insist on the suspension of the sentence pronounced by the court-martial on Diaz.

President Madero refused to accede to the demand of the Senate that he should send Cabinet Ministers to make a report regarding the rebellion at Vera Cruz and the military trial of Gen. Felix Diaz. In his reply to the Senate, which was delivered after midnight, he advised the Senators to send a committee to obtain the information they desired. The Senate subsequently adjourned without taking action.

Reports reaching here from various parts of the country say that the adherents of Zapata and Orozco continue to display activity.

President Madero last night told a commission of students that he would not interfere with the application of the full rigor of the law in the case of Diaz, but that he would not allow any one who had been able to shoot Porfirio Diaz (when Juarez was President and Diaz a revolu-tionist) the nation would have been freed from their year of terror and despotism," added President Madero.

JUSTICE COHALAN GETS HIS "KIDDIES" SAFELY LANDED FROM CEDRIC.

But He Had to Count Them Over Twice to Make Sure.

The seven children of Supreme Court Justice Daniel F. Cohalan, who have been spending the summer in Ireland, were gingerly and joyfully delivered to their happy father today by the weary and nerve-racked crew of the White Star liner Cedric.

Justice Cohalan insisted on counting the "kiddies" before he would accept delivery.

"One, two, three"—he began, but the youngsters hopped about so restlessly he had to begin over again. Several more attempts failed and the Justice was compelled to assume his sternest judicial manner and line his offspring against the rail before he could admit them accidentally.

Miss Margaret O'Leary, their aunt, who chaperoned the children on their trip across the sea, asked anxiously:
"Are you sure they're all here, Daniel?"
"I'm sure," replied the father, "but let's get 'em safely ashore as quickly as we can."

The Cedric has had some strenuous experience since she began plying back and forth across the Atlantic, but the return trip of the Cohalan kiddies was something new, rather different from storms and icebergs, but, in many respects, quite as thrilling.

Each of the Cohalan youngsters boasts O'Leary for a middle name. Omitting repetition of "O'Leary," the children were: Kathleen, twelve; Donald, eleven; "Paddy," five, and the twins, Florence and Dermott, both boys, four years old.

The Cedric was hardly out at sea before the cry went up "Paddy Cohalan is lost!" Miss O'Leary and every sailor and deckhand began a search.
Paddy was recovered, safe and happy.
A little later the Cedric was startled by a report that the twins were lost.
There was a hue and cry. The twins were found, as it continued throughout the trip. If the twins or Paddy were in sight some of the other youngsters had disappeared.

The nervous condition of the crew was augmented by the frequency with which Hans Schwank, a German dwarf acrobat, two feet eight inches tall, tried to emulate the Cohalan crew in getting lost.

Once they found the dwarf asleep in a coal bunker. When the Cedric docked he could not be found at all for a time. His manager, Joseph Bogany, at last came upon him taking a nap beneath his berth.

NEW YORK HEIRESS ENGAGED TO WED A FRENCH COUNT

Constance Warren, Society Athlete, May Become Marquise de Lasteyrie.

PARIS, Oct. 25.—Miss Constance Warren of New York is to be a Countess and may become a Marchioness. Her engagement was announced today. Her fiance is the Comte Guy de Lasteyrie, son of the Marquis and Marquise de Lasteyrie. The Comte is the son of an international marriage. The Marquise was Miss Goodlake.

Miss Warren is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Warren, of No. 22 Fifth avenue, this city, and a niece of Mrs. Robert Goelet. She is heiress to many millions and runs Miss Elena Sears a close race for the society women's athletic championship. She made her debut in 1906, and has been called the best swimmer, best oarswoman, best pedestrian, best sprinter, best waitress, best composer of music, best handler of horses and, this, best shot at glass balls and one of the best tennis players Newport ever saw.

In August, 1910, Miss Warren swam the six miles from Bailey's Beach to Easton's by moonlight and the following July swam three and a half miles in the Newport waters in one hour and fifty-five minutes. On a hot day in June, 1910, she walked twenty-eight miles with her favorite bull terrier and afterward attended a ball. The only thing Miss Sears has on her is flying.

The young heiress is of medium height, has a round, rosy face, deep blue eyes and dark brown hair without a suspicion of curl, and keeps her weight down as nearly as 107 pounds as she can, though she complains it has a tendency to reach 118. She is as strenuous in social duties and charity as in athletics, and is a regular attendant at the opera.

In May, accompanied by her parents and brother, George H. Warren Jr., she went for a motor trip through Europe. The family is expected back Nov. 15.

Mr. Warren is a member of the New York Stock Exchange and of the Metropolitan and Union Clubs. His family has long been distinguished in the history of New York and Connecticut. Mrs.
Warren was formerly Miss Georgia Williams of Stonington, Conn.

DOCTOR TRIES SUICIDE, HIS MIND AFFECTED BY ROBBER'S BLOW

Williamsburg Physician Found Dying With Gas Tube in His Mouth.

Dr. Albert N. Mehrenlender, a Williamsburg physician, who has a large practice, made an attempt on his life today in the rooms he was occupying at No. 132 Vernon avenue. When he was found by Herman Aaronson and his wife, the caretakers of the house, he was unconscious as a result of gas asphyxiation, and little hope for his recovery is held out by the doctors at Cumberland Street Hospital.

Just a week ago Dr. Mehrenlender was lured by a fictitious stock call to Penn street, Williamsburg, near Broadway, at 1:30 o'clock in the morning and there two highwaymen blackjacked him and robbed him of a valuable gold watch and chain and $14 in money.

Since he received the heavy blow on the head the physician had not been in his normal mental health and his friends assign his attempted suicide to the results of the assault of a week ago.

Last night Dr. Mehrenlender seemed particularly depressed. He visited a friend of his, near the house where he made his home and spoke vaguely of suicide. He returned late to his rooms. Some time shortly after midnight Aaronson and his wife were awakened by an odor of gas which was so strong that they felt some of its effects themselves. They found the doctor lying on his bed with a tube from the opened gas cock tied in his mouth.

The police of the Vernon street station, next door, summoned an ambulance from the Cumberland Street Hospital, but the surgeon who carried the unconscious doctor to the operating room said that there was only one chance in ten of his recovery.

Demands $1,000,000 in Bank.

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 25.—Declaring that he was the husband of Hetty Green and that he intended making his residence in England in the future, Charles Free, living on Eighth street, startled the paying teller of the Girard Trust Company today by demanding $1,000,000 that he said he had on deposit there. A policeman took charge of the visitor.

BAY RIDGE SUBWAY BEGUN WITH SILVER SPADE 'MID CHEERS

Chairman Wilcox Digs First Earth of Fourth Avenue Extension, Starting Celebration.

William R. Wilcox, Chairman of the Public Service Commission, turned a chunk of dirt with the silver blade of an ebony-handled spade, over on Fourth avenue, near Sixty-eighth street, Brooklyn, this afternoon, and all of Bay Ridge, Fort Hamilton and the nether parts of South Brooklyn united in one shrill shriek of joy. For that was the official beginning of work on the extension of the Fourth avenue subway, now nearly completed to Forty-third street.
The turning of the first precious spade of earth was the climax of a day of official rejoicing, which had been arranged by the Citizens' Celebration Committee of One Hundred, as it was the signal for the beginning of the monster parade, wherein 40,000 people took part.

The invited guests of the Celebration Committee and the Fourth Avenue Subway Association assembled at 2 o'clock on the grandstand on Fourth avenue, between Sixty-eighth street and Bay Ridge avenue. Among these were the five Borough Presidents, the members of the Public Service Commission, Bird Coler, former Borough President of Kings County; William S. Harvey, a member of the old Rapid Transit Commission; William McCarroll, former member of the Public Service Commission, and engineers of the Public Service Commission.

Stephen V. Duffy, President of the Celebration Committee, opened the ceremony attending the turning of the dirt with a brief speech, then he yielded to Borough President George McAneny, who is also Chairman of the Rapid Transit Committee of the Board of Estimate, Alfred E. Steers, Borough President of Brooklyn, concluded the formal speechmaking, and then President John E. Sullivan of the Fourth Avenue Subway Association, turned the silver spade over to Mr. Wilcox.

The spade had engraved on its face this inscription:

Presented to the Hon. William R.
Wilcox, Chairman of the Public Service Commission, by the Fourth Avenue Subway Celebration Committee of One Hundred, and used by him in breaking ground for the final section of the Fourth Avenue Subway from Forty-third to Eighty-ninth Streets—Saturday, Oct. 26, 1912, at Fourth Avenue and Sixty-eighth street, Borough of Brooklyn.

After Chairman Wilcox had performed the ceremony, Alfred Craven, Chief Engineer of the Public Service Commission, handed the official permit to commence work to M. J. Desmond, the Dean of the Contracting Company, which has the contract for the digging. Then followed the parade.

The parade passed over the route of the proposed subway to Eighty-ninth street, and was in ten divisions, including school children from both public and parochial schools, civic and industrial bodies, floats and bands, innumerable. It was reviewed by the officials of the celebration and their guests at the stand near Sixty-eighth street.

CZAREVITCH IMPROVING, RUSSIAN EMBASSY REPORTS.

Czar's Washington Envoy Bases Statement on Cables from St. Petersburg.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 25.—Regarding the nature and extent of the injuries from which the Russian Crown Prince is suffering, Mr. H. de Bach, First Secretary of the Russian Embassy here, today made the following statement based upon cablegrams from St. Petersburg:

"In consequence of an accidental contusion which brought on partial internal hemorrhage, there was a raising of the temperature, but the conditions have now positively improved."

Nothing more is known here as to the cause of the injury, but it is believed that it was received during some of the athletic exercises of which the Crown Prince is fond, in which he is allowed to indulge without restraint.

BOY KILLED BY AUTO TRUCK.

Starts It, Can't Stop It, Then Jumps and Is Run Down.

William Farago, seven years old, tried today to make a plaything out of a five-ton automobile truck belonging to a meat packing concern. The big vehicle was standing in front of a butcher shop on the street floor of the building at No. 68 Van Nest avenue, the Bronx, where the boy lived, and the driver was in the shop.

The child started the truck without difficulty, but he could not stop it or seer it. That frightened him and he leaped to the pavement, but tripped and fell backward. A wheel passed over his head. The driver of the truck, John Bernard of Corbin L. I., ran out and stopped it. Dr. D. A. Pica of No. 3722 Taylor avenue, who was passing, said she boy was killed instantly.

STATION IS PARTLY OPEN.

Beginning to-night at midnight, Grand Central commuters will have a complete station, when the opening of the suburban concourse will mark the completion of the first compartment in the great terminal. The building will be opened in its entirety in January.

Thereafter work will proceed much more rapidly on the property than has been apparent in the years it has been under fire. By 1915 the group of terminal buildings will be finished.

Announcement was made yesterday by the management that the object in opening the suburban concourse in advance of the main part of the building is to enable passengers using the subway track level to go direct to the subway and street.

COURT APPOINTMENTS ARE HELD UP BY FIGHT ON MURPHY'S PROTEGE

No Jobs Will Be Handed Out Until McLaughlin Case Is Decided, Declares Tammany.

The fight between men on the court-attendant eligible list and Justices of the Supreme Court over the appointment of one of Charles F. Murphy's district captains was renewed today when Abraham S. Gilbert, Republican candidate for Justice of the Supreme Court, submitted briefs to the Appellate division. Joseph McLaughlin, an attendant in Justice Goff's court during the Becker murder trial, is the man over whom the fight is being made.

In October, 1911, Justice Goff, having a vacancy to fill in the court officers' squad, transferred McLaughlin, then a captain in Murphy's own election district and a member in the Tammany, to the court position. The maximum salary for a prison guard is $1,300; that of a court officer $1,800. McLaughlin had taken the Civil Service examination, but was far down on the list, being No. 120.

This transfer aroused the men on the eligible list, and they retained Attorney Gilbert to make the legal fight for them. Justice Eiler granted an order restraining Controller Prendergast from paying McLaughlin his salary.

Justice Ford then came to the rescue of Murphy's protege. Each Supreme Court Justice is entitled to appoint four court officers, three to be taken from the eligible list, the fourth is a personal appointment. Justice Ford previously had appointed a man from the competitive list as his confidential attendant. When Mr. Gilbert obtained the injunction Justice Ford transferred his personal attendant to Justice Goff and named McLaughlin for the non-competitive position. This plan worked well and Murphy's man is still on the job.

Since Attorney Gilbert won the opening battle in his campaign for the Civil Service eligibles it has been noted the Justices have not been very active in making appointments. Twenty vacancies exist.

Several men at the top of the Civil Service list have sought to make their peace with Tammany, but invariably have been told no position would be filled until the McLaughlin case is decided by the Court of Appeals.

MESSAGE FROM CRUISE SAYS "NEED PROTECTION."

Flash Picked Up at San Diego, Cal., Purports to Be From Commander of Des Moines at Vera Cruz.

SAN DIEGO, Cal., Oct. 25.—A wireless message from Commander Hughes of the cruiser Des Moines, now at Vera Cruz, was picked up in port here last night. It was directed to Washington and was badly garbled, but the operators clearly made out the words "badly in need of protection."

The rest of the message was unintelligible.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 25.—Navy and State Department officials were puzzled today over last night's reports of a wireless message from the cruiser Des Moines, at Vera Cruz, intercepted at San Diego, Cal., and addressed to Washington, containing the words "badly in need of protection." The full text of the message was not reported and some uncertainties were felt. No message whatever had been received from the Des Moines last night or early today.

The State Department has made the usual inquiries of Mexico regarding the expulsion of Dunn and Caracristi, two Americans, put out of the country "under article 33" of the Mexican Constitution.

LITTLE GIRL FOUND DEAD, DOUBLE CRIME SUSPECTED.

Police of Easton, Mass., Believe Mother Drowned Child and Then Committed Suicide.

EASTON, Mass., Oct. 25.—Evidence of a murder and suicide was found in Langwater Pond, North Easton, today.
The body of a five-year-old girl was seen floating on the water and a woman with hat and hairpins were picked up on the shore nearby. The police expressed the opinion that the little girl was drowned by a woman who ended her life in the same way.

A search of the child's clothing revealed no means of identification. The police began to drag the pond shortly after the girl's body was taken ashore.

RUNS OFF TO WED STUDENT.

Youth Leaves College to Marry Miss Marguerite Prime.

Charlottesville, Va., Oct. 25.—News of the secret marriage of John Holt Mc-Elroy, a student at the University of Virginia, and Miss Marguerite Mae Prime, niece of State Senator F. L.
Prime of New York, has just come out here. McElroy left college last week and met Miss Prime at the Marina Washington Hotel in New York. From that city they came direct to Charlottesville, Va., where they were married Oct. 15 by Father Crowe.

McElroy is a son of Mr. and Mrs. W.
R. McElroy of Providence, R. I., and is a grandson of the late Joseph Hannigan, Rubber King. Miss Prime's parents live at Upper Falls, N. Y.

FINDS WEDDING FEE IS TINFOIL; PASTOR YELLS FOR POLICE

Sealed Envelope Handed to Minister Was "Fat," but Suggestive of Cheese.

CAMDEN, N. J., Oct. 25.—When the Rev. Thilo Gore, pastor of the German Lutheran Church, had transformed Miss Florence M. Essex into Mrs. Daniel J.
McNichol last night the beaming bridegroom handed him a fat and interesting looking envelope.

The clergyman, elated at his seeming good fortune, thanked the bridegroom for his liberality, wished the couple the greatest of good luck, bowed them out, closed the door and opened the envelope.
Thereupon were revealed to his unap-preciative gaze several neatly folded slips of tin foil, apparently having removed from rolls of Neufchatel cheese.

The clergyman dashed out of the house after the couple. He didn't find them.
Then he went to the addresses given by the happy pair and was informed that they were not known.

Mr. Gore reported the affair to the police. He didn't mind being cheated out of his fee, of course, but he thought that investigation might show that the young man and the young woman had made several mistakes. So far the police have been unable to pick up the trail.

WALL STREET.

A brisk buying movement accompanied the opening of the stock market today.
All the leaders moved up for fractional advances during the first hour on a moderate inquiry. Steel was prominent, with a rise to 70 1/2. Reading, Union Pacific, Copper and the Inter-Met. securities also ruled strong.

Subsequent dealings continued to mark higher ranges, although the volume of business diminished.

Reading's unexpected feature of the final hour. Responding to a steady buying movement, the leading coal issue rose to 12 1/2. Steel, Union Pacific and Copper also bettered their initial gains considerably.

Week end reworking caused slight concessions at the end, but the list was well up at closing time.
